Handwriting Practice - I

The handwriting practice sheet is divided into three main sections. The top section consists of two rows of handwriting lines (top, middle dashed, bottom). Each row contains ten pairs of the letter 'I'. The first pair in each row has red arrows and numbers indicating stroke order: stroke 1 is a vertical line down from the top line to the bottom line; stroke 2 is a horizontal line across the top from left to right; stroke 3 is a horizontal line across the bottom from left to right. The remaining nine pairs in each row are for tracing, with the letter 'I' formed by dotted lines. The middle section contains three rows of handwriting lines, each with ten dotted 'I' characters for tracing. The bottom section contains three rows of handwriting lines, each with ten dotted 'I' characters for independent practice.
